Apple’s AirPods Max Are Crazy Expensive and is Lobbying For Forced Labor in China, But at Least Tim Cook Puts His Pronouns in Bio

A diverse exploitation, an inclusive oppression.

I will say this absolutely: I hate headphones, always have. They make my ears sweat and hurt and I can’t hear that while out of them. I prefer earpods, the small nature of their design is easy on the ears soft on the head. Apple has now released their AirPod Max, which is a wireless headset, for more than $500 a pair! This while Tim Cook is lobbying against a bill that prohibits forced labor in China. But at least he puts his pronouns in his bio. When I say diversity, wokeness and other leftist culture war bullshit is not only compatible with neoliberalism and capitalism, but actually emerged from it, believe me. I have evidence.
